BY A STREET CAR

Frederick Bornemann, a Well-Known Bass in Light Opera for Many Years.

years old, bass of the "olr of St. Paul's Church in East One Hundred and Seventeenth street, near Park avenue, and a famous singer in light opera, died in Harlem Hospital to-day of injuries he received this morning when he was knocked down by a Third avenue car at One Hundred and Eighth street. Mr. Bornemann sang at the Christmes mass at the church last Sun-day and congratulated himself that his voice was just as good as when he sarrived in this country in the early

When he came here from Germany, after making a reputation and a comfortable fortune in the smaller cities there. Mr. Bornamann mang in concert until he was engaged as one of the stars of the MoCail Opera Company. After the failure of that company in New Orleans in 1878, Mr. Bornemann, with his wife, went to San Francisco and foined a stock company. His wife died in 1890, and he left the stage.

He had a queer hobby for tuning and repairing planes, and he bought a wagon and a complete set of plane tools and dreve across the country, fixing planes for any one who would let him. If his customers did not want to pay him, he didn't much cars. He had enough to live on and the work was his only colses after the death of his wife.

He went into opers again when he reached the East. His last engagement was with Charles H. Cahill, in 1908. Besides his choir work, he had lately staged amateur operas for Sunday schools and German singing societies. His fertune was about all gone, and of late he had been helped by his only close friend, John L. Gulmette, manager of a downtown hotel. The funeral will be from his home, in a little frame house at No. 168 East Twentieth street.

Lamp Explodes in Woman's Hand. terosene lamp exploded in the hand ins Lydia Newman, eighty-three years old, when he was carrying it from her bedroom to the kitchen, at No. 139 Fifth street, Jersey City, early to-day. The burning oil ignited her clothing. Members of the household smothered the flames, but Miss n wseverely burned on the body She was taken to the City

The White Sales Here Are Supreme Time Saved as Well as Money

Unsurpassed Assortment-Great Convenience

PROVE THE QUALITY of the merchandise in our White Sales because it is the BEST. We could not sell any lower very well because we are selling at retail for less than we could ordinarily buy at wholesale. No other store in the city surpasses our assortment. No other store sells at such very little prices, quality for quality. But there is another feature of the White Sales that is far ahead of any improvement in past years. It is n addition to the regular departments devoted to Undermuslins, lingerie, corsets, babywear and the like in the East Building, second floor, we have spread some of the best items all over the second floor of the Central Building, on tables and counters—where the Christmas booths were—rear and around the rotunda. Despite the unusual crowds that are attending the sales, therefore, you will find it far easier to get waited upon owing to the fact that double the selling space of former years is now used.
